The diagram is a detailed architectural floor plan of a two-unit residential building. It shows two symmetrical units separated by a central corridor. Each unit contains a bathroom with a bathtub, a toilet, and a sink, as well as a kitchen area with a sink and a refrigerator. A central corridor runs through the middle of the building, and a proposed connector door is shown opening into this corridor from the space between the two units. The plan is labeled with 'TYP. EXISTING UNIT' and 'NEW OPENING FOR CONNECTOR DOOR WHERE APPLICABLE'.
