

This architectural rendering depicts a modern multi-story building with a light-colored facade, featuring numerous balconies and large, rectangular windows. The building is situated next to an older, darker building with arched windows. The modern building has a prominent corner section with a series of balconies. The ground floor includes large glass doors and windows, and the building is surrounded by landscaping and a paved area.

X

Thomas J. Sykes - New Jersey License # 21A00762900

